A Different Point of View

First Person Narrative

Directions: Choose one of the situations below. Write a first-person narrative from the point of view of the indicated character.

- To write a first-person narrative, you write as if you are the person and use the pronoun I. For example, "My name is Akimi. I just knew I had a chance of winning the game if I teamed up with Kyle."
 - Use the information you have about a character and the events in the story to create your alternate version from a different point of view.
- A. Write a story about Charles tricking Yasmeen into going out the fire exit from Yasmeen's point of view. (page 90)
- B. Write a story about Andrew getting thrown out of the game from Andrew's point of view. (page 230)
- C. Write a story about Charles getting thrown out of the game from Charles's point of view. (page 273)

ons:

Circle the letter of the situation you decide to write about and use the space below to brainstorm what you are going to include in your story. Then draft your story in your Writer's Notebook.
